LocalSchoolsObserve Black History Week

Schools throughout the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District will be observing Black History Week, February 11-17, with a variety of activities, including movies, assemblies, guest speakers and even, perhaps, a mock demonstration reminiscent of the early days of the civil rights movement.

The week coincides with the birth of Abraham Lincoln, signer of the Emancipation Proclamation of 1863.

Many teachers throughout the district will be calling attention to the week in their own classrooms, and some schools have planned activities for their entire student bodies.

Monterey High School is holding its observance as Black Culture Week. The BSU will show three movies dealing with black life in America, including, "Nothing But A Man," "Black Renaissance" and "A Block in Harlem." Guest speakers will visit the campus throughout the week, and the local music group, Ebony in Blue will perform. The week will end with a Saturday night dance at the Seaside Youth Center.

Seaside High School is planning an Afro-American Week, with activities sponsored by the Black Student Union. On Tuesday, February 13, students are planning a mock demonstration and "eat in" on the senior lawn area at noon. BSU advisor Ben Turner said the demonstration, although staged, will carry a present-day message. The school's administration will be asked to close the senior lawn until black students "start cracking their books." He explained that the BSU is concerned with getting black students onto the school's top honor roll.

On Wednesday, teachers will be supplied with materials on contributions of blacks to society and urged to discuss these contributions with their classes. Students will also produce a 30-minute program on KZEN-FM radio thatday, featuring discussions of Women's rights, democracy, and songs.

Wednesday night, the public is invited to the Seaside High gym for a program featuring speakers, skits, dance and song. The program starts at 7:30 p.m., and there will be a $1 admission charge. Proceeds will help finance BSU activities and scholarships. The program will be repeated for students on Thursday, and no activities are planned for Friday.

Tuner said the week's theme will be, "Happiness, Peace and Black Heritage Adds and Multiplies As We Divide Them With Others."

Black History Week at King Junior High will include mural displays by student clubs and presentations of the biographies of famous black Americans. On Wednesday, February 14, prominent local black residents will be in every classroom to discuss their experiences. Thursday will be African Dress Day and will feature African dancing during the noon hour. An assembly will be held Friday featuring a student skit entiled, "Black Was Then, Black Is Now," plus readings of poetry written during the week in English classes.

Fremont Junior High will hold an assembly featuring The Trumpeteers, and will have displays and guest speakers throughout the week. Speakers will also visit Fitch Junior High, Cypress High School and other campuses during the week.

Activities at elementary schools are varied. At La Mesa School, for example, The Trumpeteers will perform at a Friday assembly. Assemblies will also featur all sixth grade classes doing choral readings of "The Creation" under the coordination of teacher Rose DeBerry.

At Covell School, books on black history will be used in the reading program, bulletin board displays will be presented at a student assembly.

A group of Cabrillo School teachers who recently traveled to Stockton to view approaches to ethnic studies will develop ethnic study centers to be used during the week.

Show Will Benefit Monterey YMCA

The Cypressaires, Monterey's barbershop quartet chorus, is staging a benefit program for the Monterey Peninsula College Gymnasium at 8 p.m.

The program will feature the Cypressaires; the Nightlighters, a barbershop group from San Jose; the Victory Temple Trumpeteers, a folk-rock youth chorus from the Victory Temple Church in Seaside; and Dave Tobiasen on piano and Ed Erickson on banjo, formerly of the Warehouse. There may be another act or two presented but this is not yet firm. Steve Magyar of Monterey Savings & Loan will be our master of ceremonies.

All proceeds from the benefit will go to the Monterey Peninsula Y.M.C.A and donations for tickets will be $3 for adults and $2 for persons under 18. Tickets will be available at Abinante Music in Monterey, Lily Walker Music in Pacific Grove, the Julia Marlowe ticket office at Sunset Center in Carmel, the Y.M.C.A. office, 353 Camino El Estero in Monterey, and at the door on the night of the performance.

The show is to be entitled "The Fabulous February Revue" and will be approximately a two hour show. We have publicity photographs available for use in connection with a story if this would be appropriate.

We will appreciate whatever assistance you can give the Y.M.C.A. in publicizing the event. Like most privately supported charitable organizations, the Monterey Y has had a very difficult time financially during the recent past.

Last year, with the assistance of the City of Monterey, they were able to work out an arrangement whereby the Y.M.C.A. office could be moved to a more favorable location at the old Chamber of Commerce building on Camino El Estero which had been burned in a fire a year or so ago. With the help of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and many local businessmen, the building has been restored to the condition which preceded the fire.

They were hoping that the combination of a new office and an active director would be a final step in a program directed toward the eventual construction of a permanent facility for the Y.M.C.A. in Monterey. Unfortunately, the director took another position with the Y.M.C.A. in Los Angeles and since September the program has been run by volunteers who are determined to keep the Y going in Monterey.

Without a professional director, they have, of necessity, had to cut back to a degree but the basic program, Y-Indian Guides for boys 6 to 9 and their dads, is being continued. The "High-Y" group is participating in a state wide youth in government program in Sacramento. Hopefully, the camping program during the summer will be carried on as usual and will involve the Day Camp in Carmel Valley, the Lake Sequoia Camp in the Sierras, and a float trip down the Rogue River.

Heart Fund Drive Begins

Four thousand volunteers are "ready to go" for the 1973 Heart Fund campaign in the tri-county area.

Two thousand five hundred of the heart volunteers for the Central Mission Trails Heart Association will be working in Monterey County.

The month-long February campaign, which includes door-to-door canvassing, special events and an all-out effort in the business community, will climax on February 25 - Heart Sunday.

Seaside Mayor Joe Doaln last week signed a proclamation designating February as American Heart Month in Seaside.

Dolan urged support for the campaign "through gifts and voluntary services which will speed greater advances in the conquest of this scourge, our nation's leading killer."

Mr. J. A. Jucero, Seaside City Chairman for the drive, reported that Monterey County raised $27,367 during the 1972 Heart Fund drive. "Your help is needed," said Mrs. Lucero, "to continue programs of research, public education and community programs to reduce this terrible loss of lives."

Art Class Begins

An adult art class with special emphasis on drawing and painting in all media will be contucted by Seaside Art Commissioner Charles Lee at King Junior High in Seaside.

The class which will employ a workshop approach for beginning, intermediate and adbanced students in black/white drawing, water color, oil and acrylic painting, will be held in Room B-9, Wednesday from 7 to 10 p.m.

For more information about the class call 394-2965 or 649-7386.

Highway Safety Projects Announced By State

A record number of special traffic safety projects authorized by the California Highway Commission were identified recently by Alvord C. Estep, State Traffic Engineer of the Division of Highways.

Estep said more than $6 million were allocated earlier this year to correct locations on the State Highway System which were found to have an unusually high accident rate, or to reduce even further the low accident rate of freeways by installing median barriers and by making the adjacent raodsides safer for out-of-control vehicles which leave the traveled lanes.

He described the work on these roadsides as part of the CURE program (Clean Up Roadside Environment) which since 1966 is credited with saving 500 lives by providing a safe recovery area in which such vehicles can come to a stop unharmed.

This is done by removing all unnecessary fixed objects such as signs and light standards or relocating them as far as feasible from the pavement, mounting those signs and standards which must remain on breakaway or slip bases designed to give way without resistance upon impact, and installing guard railing at such other fixed objects as bridge ends, piers and abutments to lessen the severity of accidents should behicles collide with them.

When the CURE program began in 1966 there were 107 fatalities on freeways involving run-off-the-road collisions with the type of fixed objects protected in the CURE program. Fatalities dropped to 36 by 1971 although freeway travel jumped from 27.7 to 42.3 billion vehicle miles, or 52.5 percent, in the same period.

Estep added all remaining CURE work on the entire freeway system will be completed by the 1973-74 fiscal year except on about four stretches scheduled for widening. Moreover, all new freeways are constructed in accordance with CURE principles.

Monterey County traffic safety improvement projects include:

Place a thin blanket of coarse graded asphalt concrete on sections of Routes 1 and 68 to increase friction and permit water trapped under vehicle tires to escape, thereby reducing hydroplaning and skidding in wet weather. The sections affected are Route 1 between Jetty Road and Springfield Drive northeast of Monterey, a distance of three miles, and Route 68 between one mile west of SPCA road and 0.3 mile east of Laguna Place, and between the Toto Creek Bridge and 0.2 mile west of Toreador Drive southeast of Fort Ord, a total distance of about 3.7 miles. Estimated cost, $97,000.

Install protective fencing on five freeway overcrossings in Monterey, San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties to discourage children from throwing or dropping objects onto the freeway lanes below. The ork in Monterey County will be on Route 1 at Tioga Avenue in Sand City and on Route 68 at John Street in Salinas. The fencing also will be installed on the Santa Rosa Raod and San Ramon Road overcrossings south of Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo County.

POPS Concert Next Sunday

The second in a series of four "POPS" concerts will be presented by Monterey County Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Haymo Taeuber, Sunday, February 11, 8 p.m. at Monterey Peninsula College's Gym-Auditorium.

The program of popular music features pianist, Paulena Carter, in Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," and Debussy's "Clair de Lune" with the orchestra. Selections from Broadway hit shows, "The Man of La Mancha," Cole Porter melodies, "Hoedown" from Aaron Copeland's "Rodeo," Strauss Waltzes and two typically nostalgic American numbers, make up a program sure to delight the audience.

Paulena Carter has had her own weekly radio broadcast over NBC networks for five years, and has doubled for several stars in motion picture scenes requiring piano playing. She has performed with major symphony orchestras throughout the Western States since her first appearance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic under Alfred Wallenstein at the age of thirteen.

Tickets for the concert are available at the usual Symphony outlets and at the box office the night of the performance. The low price of $2.50 and $1.00 is made possible by a grant from Dart Industries, Inc. Call 624-4125 for further information.

New Continuation High School Open

Marina's new continuation high school opened February 5, officials of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District announced.

The school, still to be named, is located in a portable building on the Crumpton Elementary School campus.

Neil Fearn, assistant superintendent for secondary education, said 37 students from the Marina and Fort Ord areas are enrolled. The school is staffed by a head teacher and three other teachers, and administered by Harlan Hamilton, principal of Cypress Continuation High School in Seaside. Students go to school in two shifts throughout the day.

The second continuation high was established at Crumpton so students from the Marina and Fort Ord areas could be better served, Fearn explained. The second campus will also relieve overcrowding at Cypress High, and allow the school district to take advantage of special funding from the state.

Fearn said parents of the students attending the new school were consulted before the students were designated to be transferred from Cypress.

The school was opened without ceremony, he said. Students will be given the task of diciding on a name for the new school.

Streets Closed

Road Commissioner, Bruce W. McClain announced that the intersection of Lake Drive and Paddon Place will be closed for a period of nine calendar days beginning February 5 for the purpose of constructing the sewer system for the Marina Hills Subdivision. The work is being done by Central Coast Pipe Line Construction Company.

The road is scheduled to be closed for through traffic but will remain open for local traffic.

A.E. Barragan

Several weeks ago I skipped on the surface of good - or good will. I said, in so many words: The good will isnot good because of what it effects or accomplishes or because of its adequacy to achieve some proposed end; it is good only because of its willing, it is good of itself. Even if it should happen that, by a particularly unfortunate fate or by the provision of a stepmotherly nature, this will should be wholly lacking in power to accomplish its purpose, and if even the greatest effort should not avail it to achieve anything of its end, and if there remained only the good will, it would sparke like a jewel in its own right, as something that had its full worth in itself.

Mahatma Gandhi was one of the saints of our time. This great leader, it is said, began each of his days with the following resolution:

I shall fear no one on earth.

I shall fear only God.

I shall hold ill will against no one.

I shall not submit to injustices, from wherever it may come.

I shall triumph over error by truth.

In resisting evil I shall never shun suffering.

When a man can start each day with these resolutions and do his best to live by them, he is learning the truth about life. He is learning the "Art of Living."

Of all the arts to which men give their time

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everybody.

This weeks' article is geared to TODAY'S ARMY Nursing Corps. For those of you who are interested in Nursing as a career and qualify, TODAY'S ARMY has just the programs for you. The Army Nurse Corps is 72 years old this month, but many things about the Corps are considerably younger. The policy to admit men, for instance, is 17 years old and TODAY'S ARMY Nurse Corps is justifiably proud of the outstanding young men who now comprise almost 25 percent of the Corps' membership.

Newer still are several financial support programs for those interested in serving after completing their academic schedules. One of the more popular is the Army Collegiate Program which finances the last two years of the participant's Baccalaureate program in addition to furnishing a monthly salary.

But perhaps the biggest and best of all Army Nurse financial support opportunities is the WRAIN, Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing program which has been very successful in providing TODAY'S ARMY with bright, talented young people eager to serve those charged with the defense of our nation. The WRAIN program enables a student to receive a BS degree at Army expense. Students selected for this program receive full tuition, free room and board and a monthly allowance of more than $300. Students may select the accredited college of their choice for the first two years of schooling. The last two years are spent at Walter Reed Army Medical Center where students receive classroom instruction from the University of Maryland School of Nursing and practical experience at Walter Reed. Upon graduation, students are commissioned First Lieutenants and serve three years on active duty. So young men and women you can plainly see that what you want is what you get in TODAY'S ARMY.

Three more men enlisted from the Peninsula during the month of January. They were: William C. Priest, 1123-A-Wheeler Street, Seaside. William enlisted for the Army Security Agency Enlistment Option and will be attending the Defense Language Institute in Monterey to study German Language. Edrick E. Baldwin, 1324-Lincoln Avenue, Pacific Grove, enlisted for the Regular Army Enlistment Option for a period of two years. Michael L. Woolhiser, 457-Kelly Court, Marina, enlisted for the $1500 Bonus and chose Eurpoe with a guarantee minimum of 16 months as his place of duty.

Those of you who have questions about TODAY'S ARMY Nurse Corps, or any other type training or option, may contact us at 431-Webster St., Monterey or call 372-4742/372-0553.

MPUSD Gets Federal Aid

Congressman Burt L. Talcott announced recently HEW federal assistance grants for two area school districts.

Monterey Peninsula Unified School District will receive $1,516,367, and Salinas Unified School District will receive $18,290 in separate grants. These amounts represent half of the school districts' entitlement for fiscal year 1973 which ends June 30, 1973.

Although 1973 Labor-HEW appropriations have not yet been approved, these payments are made under continuing resolution which provides for funding at the same level of support fiscal year 1972.

According to HEW, checks for these amounts should be received by the school districts in the next week or so.

King PTA Plans Founders Day Program

The Parent-Teacher Association of Martin Luther King Junior High School will commemorate Founder's Day Thursday evening, February 15, with an evening of drama.

The Drama Club, under the sponsorship of Ms. Susan Lee and Mr. Ernest Mercurie will present a short play.

Also on the program will be several selections by the King Band.

There will be a short history of Founder's Day given by Mr. Leland Lamb and the program, which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., will conclude with a brief business meeting.

Refreshments will be served and all interested adults in addition to parents of King Junior High School students are cordially invited to attend.

Sky Is Limit At Seaside High

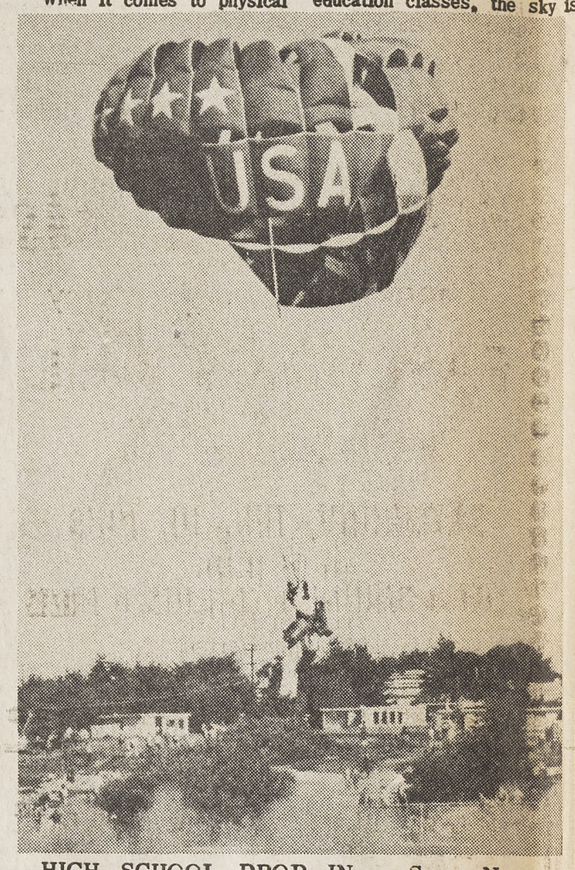
When it comes to physical education classes, the sky is apparently the limit at Seaside High School.

The school that last year offered such classes as mountain climbing and skin diving has now begun a course in parachuting fundamentals.

The new class was brought to the attention of students in a rather spectaular way last week, when two skydivers descended from the blue, trailing colorful smoke and executing standup landings in the middle of the school's football field.

Making the jump were Suzy Neuman, who is teaching the class, and Dick Williams, a member of the Monterey Skydiving Club. The pair leaped from a Cessna 172 at 7,200 feet and zoomed earthward over the school at 120 miles an hour until they opened their 'chutes at 2,000 feet and floated to the football turf. Below, hundreds of students arched their necks to follow the flight.

Miss Neuman is no stranger to parachuting, having jumped with U.S. Olympic teams three times in world meets and having earned the title of U.S. Women's Parachute Champion in 1971. She is one of a handful of women in American to have over 1,500 jumps to her credit. She was hired as a P.E. teacher at Seaside High last September.



HIGH SCHOOL DROP IN - Suzy Newman parachuted to Seaside High football field to introduce students to new class at school. She is instructor of skydiving class, which recently began.

Despite Thursday's excitement, the high school class will not include any actual parachuting by students. Miss Neuman will stick to fundamentals, like packing, comparing different kinds of 'chutes, techniques of falling and the history of parachute jumping. The course, however, will bring students to the point of being ready to qualify for jumping.

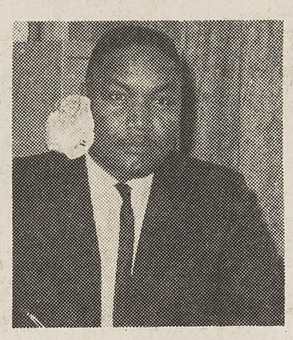
AMBAG Formation Of Standing Committee

by Mr. Stephen E. Ross
Member of Board of Director, AMBAG



As a follow-through on the recommendation made to our AMBAG Board at the last meeting, I am stating here some specifics about what I would like to see as a committee.

COMMITTE COMPOSITION

1. The committee would consist of five members:
   a. Two members from Monterey County;
   b. Two members from Santa Cruz County;
   c. One member from San Benito County;

2. This standing committee should have a Technical Sub-Committee, consisting of the following:

   A. Staff Head of OEO in each County concerned;
   b. Staff Head of HRD office in each County concerned;
   c. Staff Head of the Welfare Department of each County concerned;
   d. Staff Head of the OEDP in each County concerned;
   e. Staff Head of PEP program in each county concerned;
   f. One Staff Head from the largest school district in each County (preferably the person who has to do with Human Relations and personnel problems.);
   g. One Representative from Chambers of Commerce in each County (preferably a staff person from the Chamber that represents the area with the largest industrial potential in each County.);
   h. The Sheriff of each County;
   i. The Probation Officer of each County;
   j. Heads of Non-profit groups and citizen participation.

3. It is also recommended that one person from AMBAG's Executive Director's office coordinate the Technical Committee operation, and be the staff person for the Committee

PEOPLE PROBLEMS

When we say this Committee should address the subject of "People Problems," we refer to all of those Social or Human problems that affect the lives of those who live in the AMBAG area, especially the economic life of those who must depend upon the help from Government and public service for survival. We use the term "people problems" in a general sense.

The work or data gathering assignments could be broken down into several Blocks or subject areas. They should include, but not be limited to the following:

BLOCK I: Manpower Utilization Systems - This subject area should include: Jobs and Job Opportunities

a. Is our fact finding system accurate, and how can it be improved to meet the challenge of the 70's?
b. Are the prospects for jobs equal to the present and projected population of the area involved?
c. Does the population of the working community have the kinds of skills that will be demanded by the 70's?
d. Is the projected or planned development of the AMBAG area (shopping centers, medical facilities, recreation facilities, industrial plants, agricultural production, etc.) geared to the present or projected population, - if not, what plans are being made for adjustment?
e. What plans are made for mis-fits, and how do we expect to implement?

Included in the Manpower problems would be such things as Affirmative Action; Public Employment; Unionism; Minimum or living wage; and special programs by private and public organizations designed to produce jobs.

BLOCK II: Education and Training Delivery Systems:

a. Training Methodology and Techniques: Should we train the unskilled only for the jobs that the AMBAG area can absorb, or should we prepare the people of our area to deal with the problems of life - where ever it must be faced?
b. Do we have educational facilities or systems in each county that are needed to meet the challenge of the 70's, if not what is being planned?

BLOCK III: Dealing with Social Change:

a. What relationship, if any, is crime - especially drugs, robbery, theft, etc. to income or jobs, or the lack of same?
b. What relationship, if any, is the increased law inforcement personnel and hardware budgets, (including correctional budgets) income and fringe benefits, to the number of arrests and the retention rate in institutions?
c. Which is cheaper to society, the support of able-bodied persons through welfare, or to provide employment, even with limited results?

BLOCK IV: Some Possible Alternatives:

a. Analyze each Environmental contract that AMBAG lets to incure maximum feasible participation by para-professionals who live in the AMBAG jurisdiction, in the work to be done under such contracts.
b. Seek ways of reflecting the true needs of more people of the population by breaking down the needs in more detail, rather than AVERAGING the whole thing, which may lead to misleading conclusions.
c. Grant funds should be sought to make a study of such data, (including the gathering of same), and the reporting of the data to the different units of local government.

Plan New Ventures

Edward Pio Associates announces it is launching several joint venture projects with Jack Hamilton, former general sales manager of radio station KIDD in Monterey.

These projects will involve a specialization in the broadcast media.

Hamilton, a resident of Salinas, has been in the broadcast profession for 17 years, the last 12 as KIDD's general sales manager. With the station changing owners, he felt it was the right time to make a change and accepted the opportunity of working with Edward Pio Associates.

Ed Pio, who has been in the advertising agency business on the Monterey Peninsula for the past six years, also has ten years broadcast experience, hence the specialization thrust of the venture with Hamilton.

"This will mark a new approach in the agency business," said Hamilton. "There has long been a need on the Monterey Peninsula for this kind of concentration on the field of air media."

Film To Be Shown Friday

National Geographic photographer, Captain Irving Johnson, will make one of his rare personal appearances to narrate his new feature-length color travel adventure film "Yankee Sails Inland," under the auspices of Explorama.

The film, with Captain Johnson narrating person, will be screened in ten Northern California communities during February. It will be shown at 8:15 p.m. this Friday, February 9 at the Sunset Cultural Center Auditorium in Carmel. Reserved seat tickets are abailable in advance at the Julia Marlow Box Office and Abinante Music Store.

and their talents the most neglected is the art of living. It is strange that men should care so little about something so important to them. Men with skilled training often prove to be the least fit to master the art, of living. Tangled lives and damaged souls fill the offices of doctors and overflow our hospitals. The failures of these people are not failure of the mind. The men who fail to face life successfully are not always men of low intelligence. Some of the most brilliant people I know seem to have the least to live for, some of the most gifted people end up in a dead-end street. The problem of meeting life successfully cannot be solved in the test tube. Real living takes time. When it comes to learning how to live, we have no time to waste.

Often we try to solve the problems of life simply by pretending they are not there. We try to get rid of them by shutting our eyes to them. This makes us feel released and happy for a short time. But we cannot treat life this way for long. Life is serious, and life is tragic. It will not hold back its anger forever, and when it is too late, the person concerned, discovers he has been playing a game where the stakes are life and death. You cannot look on the dark side of life all the time either, or else you miss the way. Someone was showing a layman the latest thing in X-ray equipment. "You can see all the bones in the body," he was told.

"Ah," said the layman, "you can see all the bones, but you cannot see the heart."

Many people believe there is no justice in life, and they can defend their belief quite well. They will insist they deserve far greater rewards than they have received. They observe a man who certainly is not as good as they are, and he has prospered while they have not. Or they can list all the troubles that have come to them, and their neighbor has had no such trials. Why?

The burdens of life are not always distributed evenly. Some people carry a bigger load of tragedy than they ought to carry, and some seem strangely free from their share. Yet on the whole life is just, and we reap what we sow. Many a man who seems to deserve our pity does not want it and does not pity himself. And many a man who seems to have all the good things of life has an emptyness inside him, and no one envies him who knows him well.

Believe it or not, but usually we make our own trouble. I do not mean that we who suffer always mean to be bad men. But too often we have not learned what we do that is wrong. We have not been able to see what it is about us that causes trouble. We go from crisis to crisis, making the same mistakes and reaping the same sad results. We are often too lazy to ask what we are doing that so irritates others. Many of us would be saved from bitterness and defeat if only once we would assume that we were to blame. Then we could make an honest attempt to find out why and do something about it.

One thing for sure: Self-pity is of the devil. The man who has learned to give in to this evil habit must rid himself of it before even God can help him. When we feel sorry for ourselves, we sign our own death warrant. Life is a testing ground, and God seems set on producing heroes. The blows we are called on to bear would not fall on us if God would rather have us happy then heroic.

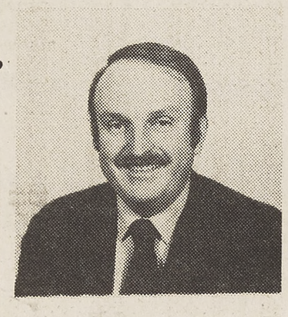
In closing, let me suggest that you not envy the man whose life seems easy. Rather admire the man whose trials have made him strong. The center of faith is a cross. On it a man died in agony and defeat. But in some strange way of God the cross has become the center of hope and comfort. That cross of Christ tells us that God meant for us all to carry our crosses - not because he hates us, but because he loves us and is testing us and training us for our eternal destiny.

I have just finished reading for the third time a book that was given to me by Commander and Mrs. Barker a year ago called "Dare to Live Now." One story was about our Lord touching a man's eyes to make him see and the man said he saw "men as trees walking." Then our Lord gave him the second touch and he saw clearly. Perhaps many of us need a "second touch" by Christ to see our jobs in their right perspective.

Have a happy week, and if we can contribute in someway to help you, do not hesitate to let us know.

Andy is fine. He sends his love to everyone; we do too. Let us chant together: "Lord change this world beginning with me."

Your Supervisor Reports



ROGER POYNER

Last Friday I spent several hours with our county's new welfare director Mr. Ben Kelley. In discussing the welfare program I learned a few basic facts which I would like to share with you.

Monterey County's welfare budget in over $26,000,000. Twenty million comes from the county property tax of 82 cents per $100 of assessed valuation or about 7 percent of your total property tax bill if you are a Seaside resident.

Welfare aid is divided into several catagories and is very complex. One applicant may be eligible for more than one kind of aid. An applicant for welfare must complete a 19 page questionaire and sign it "under penalty of perjury" before his eligibility can be determined.

About 13,000 people received or are receiving some kind of direct welfare aid in our county. Because their families also benefit more than 30,000 people are affected. About two-thirds of them live in the Salinas-north/south county area and one-third on the Peninsula.

Mr. Kelley assured me that wwelfare fraud in our county is very minimal due to the eligibility and verification procedures and close cooperation with the District Attorney when fraud is suspected.

The County does have an active Welfare Commission composed of 13 interested and responsible citizens who are appointed by the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Charles Page is the Chairman. Edward T. Durel, the Rev. C. Lewis McFadden and George E. Dovolis are our commission members from the fourth supervisorial district.

Re-volution, History and God

In the East and in Eastern culture, his tory is cyclical. It is not terribly important to the Eastern mentality what the events of the times are, for God is HERE and NOW eternally. Since all life, and thus all history, is God, God acting upon Himself, time and space are, thus, relatively unimportant. History of the planet thus is meaningless for the yogi and monk who sees life as a dream play acted out only for the revolution of all material life back into the Godhead.

In the West and in Western culture and religion, few people have approached God in this manner. To most people, up until today, God is seen and theologized about only through his ACTS, i.e. history. History in the West has great meaning and value for the human condition, for it is the pen of God writing on the tablet of life, set there for man to interpret and thereby understand the Will of God.

Both world views, both theologies of East and West concerning history are but two sides of the same theological coin. Both ideas are two parts of the same Truth. Both beliefs are correct, but both imcomplete without the other side. For God is both outside the limitations of time and space, but also within it, totally acting in human history. God is the absolute and complete mover of time. All history has to take place in the drama of our revolution back to God.

Contrary to what many people in the Western world really believe today, this Universe is not chaotic (which western science is proving). Everything acts according to Plan, according to Divine Will. There are no mistakes! When you first come to that understanding, it will blow your mind. There are no mistakes!

The inner meaning of history CAN be read by he who has understanding and wisdom. To all others history seems chaotic and purposeless. And such a view is held only by a person of a low level of spiritual consciousness. He looks but he does not see. He listens but he does not hear. Only a few in every age have ever been on a high enough level of consciousness to understand the meaning of history. All others have for thousands of years remained in darkness. Jesus ended his parables with the words "he who has ears to hear, let him hear." This is why he taught in parables, knowing that only a few would really understand. In this way he guarded the sacred Truth from those who would only scoff, but at the same time was teaching directly those who were ready to understand the true meanings of the parables. One cannot and should not lay out the naked truths for those who are not ready to hear them, for they will be so frightened at the heavyness of the new concepts that they will tear the truths and the teller to shreds. They will laugh at the teachings and crucify the teacher. Reality is just too threatening to most people who are cught up in the materiality of life, actors in a drama without even knowing it. "Do not cast your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet and turn on you." (Matt. 7:6)

Such has always been the case, and is so today. But today, 1973, there is something unique happening in history. In but the wink of an eye of history, mankind is beginning to "wake up." For the first time in human history, masses of people are now evolved to the point of the beginning of understanding. Mankind stands on the threshold of a new evolution of his race. Homo Sapien and beyond. For the evolution of history and thus man is now increasing its rate of movement back to the Godhead.

The age in which we live may well be the most important in all human history, the beginning of the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth, the Age of Aquarius, the desending of the new Jerusalem, where God alone is ruler over the races of men, and the spark of God in every man will become a flaming torch of divinity which we will see in every man.

The world is coming to a beginning, not an end. Though evil now grows at an increased rate, so is good growing, the wheat alongside the weeds. The forces of good and evil will soon do final battle, that the new age may be ushered in.

For those who have eyes to see and ears to hear, we will begin to unravel the inner meaning of history and our present time in my next column.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: Eight score and four years ago was born one who was destined to become the most beloved and honored Americans. Who can not recall the concluding phrase of his Gettysburg Address: " . . . THAT GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE AND FOR THE PEOPLE SHALL NOT PERISH FROM THE EARTH"?

Would we cherish his remarks if he had said that rule of, by, and for some grasping politicians, who squander our mondy recklessly, shall not vanish? Or of, by, and for those addicted to levying ever more burdensome taxes? Or of, by, and for a privileged group?

Or of, by, and for some excessively aloof, unfeeling, and arrogant occupant of the White House? Or of, by, and for those in power obsessed with military adventures against weak lands? (Did not Lincoln denounce the unjust war with Mexico, that mocked our ideals)?

Are not some trying to distort democracy? Either, pushing to make the government a harsh master rather than our servant. Or, making democracy to mean anarchy; the "rights" of rascals to be paramount, the public be damned! (Decent folks must sit helpless while their throats are cut, their pockets picked?)

As we honor Abraham Lincoln of February 12th, let us not forget how effectively he punctured the buble of elite snobbery. He said: "The Lord must have loved the common people for He made so many of them." What a noble character! How many in high places have his goodness of heart? Humility? Willingness to listen to ordinary folks? Devortion to truth?

Sincerely yours,
George Herman,
Marina

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

During the next three months, your City Council will probably be holding meetings four times a month instead of twice a month. We must adopt a realistic five year program that will continue our total Community Development by applying all revenues for our most urgent requirements.

Priority of attention and effort must also be devoted to the following:

PEP - We have twenty City employees hired and funded by this program which is scheduled for phase out in sixty days. To continue their employment, we would have to allocate $150,000 in the budget. (Our total funds received under Revenue Sharing is $225,000.)

LIBRARY - Although our 80 percent EDA grant application request was disapproved last year, we will actively follow up with all Federal agencies that could provide assistance. Library plans will cost approximately $28,000.

YOUTH CENTER - HUD has terminated over 90 percent of its community development programs and the significant quote in the termination announcement is as follows: "Urban Renewal Programs will be administered from here out in such a manner as to maintain the capability of local community development agencies to continue the programs under revenue sharing if they so desire." The inclusion of an expanded Youth Center in our plans is mandatory.

TRANSPORTATION - A flexible and adequate mass transportation system, to include service for Ft. Ord, begs a solution. We must find a way to qualify for SB 325 funds.

SOCIAL SERVICES - Strong support of these programs that involve every segment of our City. Our youth and our seniors cannot be neglected. One example: We urgently need a Medical Facility in Seaside.

LAGUNA GRANDE - The shopping center and the Regional Park on both sides of Laguna Grande must be developed not only for our benefit but for the entire Peninsula.

Several public hearings will be scheduled in the next three months. On Wednesday, February 28, 1973, there will be a joint Redevelopment Agency and Seaside City Council meeting - Public Hearing - which will be held to discuss their plans for the next fiscal year. The public is encouraged to attend, participate, and express all pertinent views.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

Military Appreciation Week in Seaside was a resounding success! A tremendous amount of work and effort resulted in much praise and appreciation from military personnel around the Peninsula.

At last Thursday's Board of Director's meeting, General H. G. Moore, Commanding General of Fort Ord, personally addressed Board Members and expressed his deep appreciation for a week devoted to the military and for the tremendous cooperation between the City of Seaside and Fort Ord.

As you may know, Fort Ord offers their stadium to Seaside High School for graduation ceremonies and the Golf Couse to the High School Golf Team. They also provide cooks and stoves for the annual Pancake Breakfast before the 4th of July Parade. They helped the Chamber make the Variety Show a success at MPC.

Gen. Moore also commented on the tremendous cooperation Fort Ord has recieved from Seaside Chief of Police, B.W. Cooper. He also mentioned that the Seaside American Legion has been very kind.

The Military Appreciation Variety Show, which was held Saturday, January 27, at MPC gymnasium was exciting and a learning experience. There were professionals, semi-professionals and amateurs all donating their time to entertain over 1200 people. Naturally there were problems . . . the show ran too long, the sound equipment wasn't quite right, and the gym was cold; but, all in all, it was a great deal of fun. It was especially gratifying to know that January 27 was also the day that President Nixon signed the peace agreement with Hanoi. Sgt. Bill Brown and Ray Stepniak of MBS, plus Jon Baldwin, who was MC, deserve a great deal of thanks for the fine performance.

At our Board of Directors meeting, it was decided that our next big military appreciation event will be held at the end of summer, so that we may have an outdoor barbecue and entertainment, and so merchants and soldiers and their wives may meet and talk together.

We also received a wonderful letter of appreciation from Rear Admiral M. Freeman, superintendent of the Naval Postgraduate School.

The Installation of Officers of the Seaside Chamber will be held Monday, February 12. It will be at the Fort Ord Officers Club, social hour begins at 7 p.m. with dinner at 8 p.m. The "Citizen of the Year" and "Beautification Project of the Year" for a local business will be announced that evening. I will serve as Ms. of Ceremonies (that's Master of Ceremonies, but different). If you haven't gotten your tickets yet, stop by the Chamber. A New York steak with wine dinner, plus dancing . . . only $7.50. I need to know by Friday.

Volunteers Are Needed

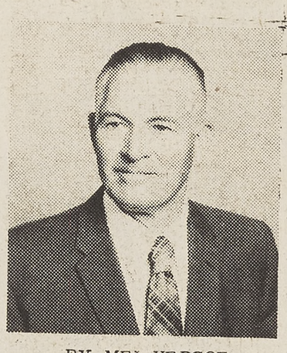
The Monterey County Suicide Prevention Center is seeking volunteers to fill vacancies on their staff.

Applicants will be interviewed by a screening committee and those accepted will begin instruction on Thursday, March 1. Classes will be held every Monday and Thursday from that date through April 2. The course will consist of six lecture, study discussion groups, three practice call sessions and a final exam and evaluation session.

Upon the successful completion of this course, the new volunteer will have a three week probationary period with an experienced volunteer. At the end of this period the volunteer will be expected to take four hours phone duty each week.

Applicants may obtain details by dialing 373-0713 or 373-6363.

As I See It



BY MEL VERCOE

The shooting of Senator John Stennis brought a predictable response. Those of us who think crime would be non-existent or nearly so if guns were prohibited are again trying to have hand guns outlawed, and the so-called gun lobby is presenting the usual arguments that the only people who would then not own guns would be the ones who were not going to use them to commit crimes, anyway.

Eighteen thousand people are murdered each year in the United States, and at least half of them are done in by guns. I find it interesting that the wounding of one U.S. senator can get more people interested in crime prevention than all the rest of the 18,000 put together.

I also find it interesting in a way that Senator Stennis, who is the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and who has been more instrumental in promoting and sustaining our part in the Vietnam war than any other individual in Washington, D.C., has finally found out what it feels like to be torn up by a bullet. This really does nothing for the 47,000 Americans who died in Vietnam of combat injuries, or for the other million who died who did not happen to be American, but it does suggest that maybe we would have less unnecessary wars if members of Congress were given the dubious honor of being the first to go into combat.

What a revolting idea. The world would have to find another policeman, if it wanted one. The U.S. economy would collapse, and hundreds of retired admirals and generals would have instant heart attacks. So, we must continue as we have. Those who start the wars and make money from them are not the same people who have to die because of them. And we will continue to have crime and more crime, because we are no more serious about stopping crime than we are about stopping wars.

An occasional emotional outburst for gun control, just because some prominent person happens to be a victim, is not enough. When and if we as a society decide that each human being should have some kind of a right to live without being victimized by some callous criminal, then maybe crime will not pay. And it has become increasingly obvious that making prisons into resorts is not the answer, not does it help that we now have a vicious circle whereby there is such a high percentage of criminals that our jails don't have room for the, and word gets around and everybody wants to get into the act.

There is one alternative. Make wholesale use of the death penalty in each and every case where a person is found guilty of murder or of using a deadly wepon in the commission of a crime, and make use of it soon enough after the conviction so that the criminal does not die of old age first.

Swinging With Vickie

I walked in the Del Rey Cultural Center last Saturday night to find out that the concert that was scheduled might not come off as planned. Evidently they were having problems with the sound production. I thought it was a shame, with all those people outside the ticket office waiting to get in. Well, it came off smooth anyway.

The WORKSHOP who are actually the ACE HILL TRIO, kicked off with some very very nice jazz. Unfortunately it appeared that the jazz was not appreciated as much as the soul-rock. But in my mind ACE HILL TRIO is tops in jazz for Seaside. Hoping to see them back real soon.

The RED HOUSE BAND from Salinas "cooked" Saturday night. They were more polished than before.

And the SOUNDS OF PERSUATION were definately "smoking." (And I had to run out of film!!! Task, Task) The main vocalist sounded similiar to Eddy Kendricks-one of my favorite people.

Are you ready for this? TOWER OF POWER along with WELFARE and CALIFORNIA will be appearing at the Center, February 17. Tickets are $3.25 in advance and $3.50 at the door.

As you may already know, The Del Rey Cultural Center has started showing movies also. They've gotten all their projection equipment together and have started the reels moving. (A bit of humor there.) From the 7th thru 10th, HICKEY & BOGGS along with DOC will be showing at the theatre. The 10th thru 13th is Monster Week with DAUGHTER OF SATAN and SUPER BEAST. Admission is $1.00 for adults, and 50¢ for children under 13. Be there or be square!!!!

On Sunday, February 11th, there will be a FREE concert featuring THE ELEMENTS OF PEACE. It will be held at King Jr. High School from 1 p.m. to 3:30. This concert is sponsored by Young Adults For Action. Be there Sunday and give these fine folks your support, and your listening power. It's free.

PTA, School Officials To Meet

Early childhood education and teacher evaluation will be discussed at a luncheon for PTA officers, principals and central office administrators from the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District this Friday, February 9.

About 100 persons are expected to attend the luncheon, to be held at noon upstairs at Neptune's Table on Wharf Number One. Superintendent Allan Petersdorf explained that several such luncheons will be held during the year as a means of keeping local school PTA units informed about matters affecting the schools.

Dr. Henry Hutchins, assistant superintendent for elementary education, will discuss implementation of the state's new early childhood education legislation. David Blair, director of personnel, will explain new state-mandated procedures for evaluating teachers and other certificated employees.

Dress Design Class Begins

A class in dress design that includes sewing, fitting and tailoring will start next Tuesday, February 13 the Monterey Adult School has announced.

Instructor Ester Ellis said the class is designed to meet the needs of every women who sews and wants to make clothes with a perfect fit. Students will learn easy techniques for altering commercial patterns and clothing, as well as how to design originals from a basic pattern with a perfect fit, style, color and fabric that will flatter a figure and coordinate a wardrobe.

Miss Ellis, who holds a masters degree in design, and has worked as a professional designer in Hollywood and Berkeley as well as having taught at all levels from public schools to university, said she will teach easy professional sewing shortcuts and tailoring tricks, including hand details and machine work.

The class will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 in room 1 at Monterey High School. A $3 registration fee is required.

Minutes Of Seaside Chamber Of Commerce Board of Directors Meeting

PRESENT - Don Butts, Mark Sincoff, Ed Fisher, Carl Oliver, Larry Nelson, Joe Ferreira, Dick Penrose, Jim Webster, Ray Stepniak, Fred Tardy, Bob McCauley, Col. Kerker.

ABSENT - Cecil Bindel, Fred Sandman, Neal Winkler, Bill Brown, Capt. Riley.

GUESTS - Adam Torres, Richard Bennett, Gerald Williams, OCE.O.; Pat Schmeltz, Bank of America; County Supervisor Roger Poyner; Councilman Steve Ross; Carey Royster; Jim Ark, USO; John Perkins; Clint Porter; Angelo Garcia and Ray Lee Heggemeier of Seaside High; Claudia Olds and Alan Fowler of Monterey High.

President Don Butts called the meeting to order. Mark Sincoff moved to approve the minutes of the last meeting. Joe Ferreira seconded. Approved.

Richard Bennett - Director of O.E.O. talked about the proposed programs: Job training, finding jobs, getting hard-to-employ into jobs. Most current operations are losing funding. He hopes to interest businessmen in attending meetings of O.E.O. Board of Directors on the 3rd Friday of Feb.

The Economic Development Program Meeting will be Feb. 6 at 11 a.m. We should bring more businesses into Seaside so we can provide more jobs. The money for the Economic Development Program does not come from the County. They provide in-kind services (office space, counsultation). Programs include development of minority businesses - SBA Loans, Local Development Company in Seaside.

He hopes to get comments from Chamber - cooperation and a statement from Chamber to Board of Supervisors.

What is budget? $43,000. $11,000 is in-kind contributions.

Poyner - They are trying to get Salinas & Peninsula to work together for good of Community. He feels the plan is good, but needs to get input from local citizens.

Bennett - All the O.E.O. programs are county-wide. He doesn't care who gets the credit for results. Wants to be a catalyst to bring Chambers together. Economic Development, minority and central force for EDA & SBA.

Councilman Ross - Economic Development overlaps what was done in past. Many minority people have problems getting money for loans - Trying to help the Chamber by helping minorities to get in business.

Crawford - mentioned that these projects are being done in the Chamber.

Butts - mentioned that many people are not reached by standing institutions. It's going to be necessary to get together the people involved and have a special meeting.

Wester - moved that the Seaside Chamber recommends that the Board of Supervisors continue to study the E.D.A. program with some revisions as discussed. Joe seconded. Approved.

Membership Committee - No specific report. Ed Fisher said we should have membership drive in March.

Govt. Affaris - Mark Sincoff mentioned the parking ordinance. He wondered if Chamber should take stand on laws that don't directly affect businesses.

Councilman Ross - recommends that the Govt. Affairs Committee should act as watch dog on the Council.

Butts - goals of Chamber should be directed in other ways, not only business oriented.

Ferreira - makes motion that we object to the present drafting of the ordinance, but might agree if redrafted and that a Community Homeowners Association should be established.

Carl Oliver seconded. Approved.

Supervisor Poyner - This kind of information is an important input into legislative process. Providing alternatives is good when the Chamber endorses that is the strongest. Second, we can study but not endorse and provide decision in-put. Anything Council does affect business.

Bus-Dev. - No report.

Military Affairs - Stepinak - 2500 tickets printed. 300 tickets to special services, 50 tickets to WAC Detachment. Decorating Committee - Bunting. 2 Cars - Don Butts - Evening of 27th, if needed. Red, white and blue balloons.

Student Activities - MPC - Decorations or Special Services - Fort Ord. All is going well.

Nearly 2000 tickets have been sold. The Show is being put together well by Jon Baldwin.

Don Butts appointed Joe Ferreira head of the Budget Review Committee with Larry Nelson. Carl Oliver will choose award winner for Beautification Committee with Bob McCauley.

Meeting adjourned at 9:45 a.m.

Concert Planned For Sunday

Longstreth and Escosa, duo-harpists, will be presented at the Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium at three o'clock Sunday, February 11th, as third in the concert series of the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association.

Joe Longstreth and John Escosa were introduced to the harp at Wainwright Music Camp in Indiana, but did not meet and collaborate until both were already individual successes. On chance introduction they collaborated in recording an album of traditional and original Christmas carols.

Joe Longstreth was educated at Princeton University and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, London, and studied in Paris and the Conservatorio di Santa Cecilia, Rome. After military service in World War II as a major flying B-29's, he appeared on Broadway and played in Studio One television productions, wrote opera libretti, and authored children's books. Mr. Longstreth conducted his own television and radio shows for four years on Station WLW, featuring musical biographies, and lives of famous composers and performers, augmented with demonstrations at harp and piano.

John Escosa studied at Juilliard School and was a student of Carlos Salzedo. In Fort Wayne he was harpist and soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra, the Symphonette, and chamber music groups. He was written incidental music for the theater, scores for ballet, and was musical director for the Fort Wayne Civic Ballet Company. His composition "Three Dances for Two Harps" was premiered at the Longstreth and Escosa Carnegie Recital Hall concert in 1967.

Since their initial concert appearances in 1964, they have been in demand for repeat performances, and have given nearly three hundred performances since the '70-71 concert season, appearing in all but three states and in every province of Canada, bringing a new dimension to a somewhat neglected instrument.

TO APPEAR - Longstreth and Escosa, world-renowned duo-harpists will present their unique form of music this Sunday at Pacific Grove Junior High School. Concert is part of series presented by Concert Association.
